Leveraging Handshake with Limited Staff and Reduced Budgets
LEVERAGING HANDSHAKE

Three 锁 to Leveraging Handshake

1. Train student workers
2. Automate the simple stuff and plan all your workflows
3. Use pre-built Handshake resources
Training Student Staff

What do student staff typically do?

● Set up and provide virtual fair support
● Close out appointments
● Create and apply labels
● Approve jobs and employers
● And much more!

Improving Student Engagement
STUDENT ENGAGEMENT

Targeted Outreach Using Labels

- Identify targeted student populations (ex. major, school year, demographics, interests) and apply labels as needed.
- Reference labels in crafting emails with specialized content.
- Attach Handshake jobs, events, and career fairs to emails to send to segments.
LEVERAGING HANDSHAKE

Sending Emails to Segments

Complete your profile and get noticed by employers!

Did you know that 80% of students who fill out their Handshake profile get messaged by recruiters?

Recruiters are messaging students now! Check out the companies they work for!

Handshake is interested!

Recruiters at Handshake are actively messaging Communication students for marketing positions! Make sure you have a complete profile so that you are more likely to get a message from a recruiter!

Once your profile is complete be sure to follow Handshake and apply!

STUDENT ENGAGEMENT

Host Specialized Events and Fairs

- Focus on Specific industries for specialized groups of students
- Smaller events are more manageable for career services and make it easier for students to find relevant employers
- Students are slightly more likely to attend industry fairs than general fairs
STUDENT ENGAGEMENT

Use Handshake’s Pre-Built Digital Content

- The Handshake Marketing Toolkit has social media assets, including Instagram stories, that can be a great way to share tips with students
  - Check out TCNJ’s tips & strategies
- Introduce students to potential jobs with an Instagram takeover led by employer partners
- Use ready-to-share content from Handshake’s Blog in newsletters and social media posts
Use Your Campus Relationships

- Leverage relationships with faculty to promote Handshake and career services during classes
  - The Marketing Toolkit has ready-made resources
- Partner with student organizations and Residential Life for events
- Integrate career services into Orientation
- Leverage Alumni
Case Study

Haverford’s Strategies for Boosting Student Engagement

- Send targeted emails based on 3 key fields: Major, Industry Interest, Job Function
- Co-sponsor events as much as possible with other offices, faculty, and student groups
- Schedule remote-friendly alumni programming

Participate in a Multi-School Virtual Fair

Bringing together multiple schools can entice employer engagement:

- Leverage the employer networks of multiple career services teams at once to attract a more diverse array of employers
- Expose employers to students they might not have engaged with before
- Allow employers to recruit from a larger pool of students all in one place

EMPLOYER ENGAGEMENT
“The ability to have fairs with our partner institutions has been a game changer, especially in this virtual environment. We’ve been able to leverage new employer relationships with our team as well as create new opportunities for our students to engage with employers. For us, the multi-school fair has great potential into the future as we’re able to do new, innovative programming with schools across the country.”
